Ready to sell your first NFT on OpenSea? This guide explains how to get started.

Selling an NFT on OpenSea

From OpenSea, select your profile image in the top right and then My Profile.

Select the NFT you would like to sell from your wallet. If you don't have an NFT available to sell, check out our NFT guide to get started.

Select Sell on the top right.

Choose the price, listing fee, and other preferences.

When you are finished select Post Your Listing.

You'll then be asked to complete your listing.

Please note, if you've never sold on OpenSea before you'll need to verify your wallet. Also, if the item you are listing was not minted on OpenSea but through a custom contract, there may be an additional approval step required to allow OpenSea to trade the item on your behalf.

To see the items you have listed to sell, from your profile page select the Activity tab.

You will see the item you just listed labeled with the transaction List.

To have listing not expire:
use fixed price w no end price
max size of an NFT is 40 mb- but they suggest 30 mb.
Make listing w quantity = 1
To change & supply quantity: add
?enableSupply=true at end of URL
(That makes it a fungible item)
If you use auction - don't change reserve
after auction starts
